

The Farm at Miller's Crossing

2011 Winter CSA Participation Agreement

The price for a single winter vegetable share is $225.00. The share includes six Saturday distributions of seasonal vegetables and frozen summer vegetables for the months of November, December and January. Because of the perishable nature of a frozen product, we will not be able to bag and hold shares. You must pick up your share on the dates of the distribution, or your share is donated to Salvation Army.

The vegetable share will include 6-10 lbs. of storage vegetables and 1-3 packages of frozen vegetables, with salad and cooking greens as weather allows. The vegetables will be lightly washed and free of excessive mud and dirt. Leaving the vegetables slightly dirtier helps preserve quality and freshness. Our own vegetables have been frozen by Farm to Table in their freezing facility.

The philosophy behind Community Supported Agriculture is one of shared risk; farmers and consumers share the risk of crop failure as well as the bounty of the harvest. In this sense CSA is not a co-op. Shareholders support the farm and farmer through an “up-front” payment, which allows the farmer to avoid borrowing money, which is often necessary due to expenses without production income. In return for this investment the farmer manages the farm to provide you with a diverse distribution of the highest quality seasonal produce.
